By People Page Staff/31/2012

So a date with Lenny Kravitz isn't part of the package, but if you do win HGTV's Urban Oasis Giveaway at the Paramount Bay, we know for a fact the singer has a crash pad there. Lenny and his NYC company, Kravitz Design, also did many of the open spaces. Start licking your chops by taking a virtual look at the stunning residence when the e-tour goes live on HGTV.com Wednesday. You can also watch the condo's evolution from empty shell to plush paradise in time-lapse construction photos. This year's oasis — a 1,700- square-foot, two-bedroom on the 20th floor — was designed by local interior designer Lindsay Pumpa. Great views of Miami Beach, Biscayne Bay and the Port of Miami? Check, check, check. "No holds barred when it comes to home decor in Miami," Pumpa says. Enter for a chance to win once a day on HGTV.com and Frontdoor.com, Aug. 23-Oct. 15.
